The Bob Bailey Memorial six-a-side competition
on Sunday, August 6th

The annual six-a-side competition in memory of Bob Bailey was held at the Bout-du-Monde on Sunday, August 6th with the usual four teams, CERN, Geneva, Geneva Pak Friends and Geneva Sri Lankans. Each player (apart from the wicket keeper) has to bowl two overs in the 10 overs-a-side matches.

CERN had the misfortune to draw Geneva Sri Lankans, winners of the competition in the last three years. CERN fielded first and did well to keep the score down to 94. With the CERN team missing many of their top batsmen, they failed to worry the opposition, making only 50 and thus qualifying for the 3/4th place final. In the other semi-final, Geneva beat the Pak Friends, making 131 (Nelson Burrell 97 n.o.), which the Pak Friends failed to get, ending with 90.

In the 3/4th place final, CERN again fielded first and the Pak Friends only managed to make 78, but unfortunately CERN's batting let them down once more, finishing again with a total of 50. The final was a very exciting match, Geneva batting first and making the huge score of 142, with Nelson once again the star, making 115 not out in the 10 overs! It looked as if a new name would be on the cup this year, but Dugal Janz matched Nelson's fine innings to make 109 not out and the Sri Lankans passed the Geneva total after 8 overs to retain the trophy.

The next CERN fixture is against Prince CC on Saturday, 12 August, at CERN, in the last Swiss League match of the season.
